

Job Title: Clinician (Beyond Violence Program)

FLSA Status: Non-Exempt

Compensation: $65,000 - $75,000 / year

Location: Richmond & Antioch

Prepared Date: 7/11/22

The Family Justice Center is a warm and welcoming one-stop center for victims of interpersonal violence (IPV) -- domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, elder abuse and human trafficking. Beyond Violence is a multifaceted violence intervention and prevention program that involves a collaboration among John Muir Health's Trauma Services, Community Health Improvement, and Social Services departments, along with local community-based partner organizations. The goal of the Beyond Violence program is to reduce violence and promote a healthy and vibrant community.

John Muir Health identifies patients over the age of 15 who are injured by any form of intentional violence (shooting, stabbing, assault, etc.) and who reside in any part of Contra Costa County. Qualifying patients are referred to a Beyond Violence Intervention Specialist (IS) from their community, who provides robust community resources in ways that support full recovery.

Family Justice Center is one of the community partners for this program and will assist adult patients from West and East County.

COVID-19 response: The Family Justice Center is considered an essential service and this position will require working on-site. The Center has established safety protocols, guided by County Health guidance, to prioritize the safety and wellness of staff, partners, and clients.
